June 4.—With the first game of the season to their credit the Brooklyn Dodgers again this afternoon confounded their opponents.

McPhee and his troupe of German and Irish ballplayers were a disgusted lot when they came to the grounds to prepare for their second encounter with the Cincinnati Reds. The defeat yesterday was a bitter pill to swallow, and in consequence they were determined to get even with the ex-champions to-day.

"Fox" Ned Hanlon was as confident of winning as the Heinies were, and just before the ex-champions came out on the field he called them together and said:

"Keep up the good work, boys, and we will soon be giving that Pittsburgh crowd a hard run for the lead. I expect to see you win the next two games from the Cincinnati, for if you can beat them in a game like yesterday's, then you ought to have no trouble in taking the next two."

Hanlon selected Kitson to do the twirling for his team. Kitson has won the last five games which he has pitched, and on that account Hanlon figured to-day's game a sure victory for his men.

Capt. Beckley and Mr. McPhee held a consultation before selecting their twirler and finally decided that Ewing was capable of doing the trick. The beautiful weather and the fact that the Trolley Dodgers are playing championship ball attracted another good crowd of fans.

Before the gates were opened the police arrested a young man for drilling holes in the fence. This is the second person that has been caught at the same trick, the first one being sentenced to two days in prison.

First Inning.
Hoy lifted a high fly to Farrell. Dobbs smacked the ball for two bases. Peitz sent a sky-scraper to Sheppard and Crawford was thrown out. No runs.

Dolan ambled to first on four wide balls and reached second on Keeler's sacrifice to Stiefel. Sheppard's bunt soarer was smothered by Dobbs. McCreary then laced the ball to left, sending Dolan over the plate with the first run. A wild throw by Ewing advanced McCreary to second. Dahlen was retired by Magoon and Peitz. One run.

Second Inning.
Magoon sent up a pop fly to Dahlen. Corcoran flied to McCreary. Stiefel flied to first. No runs.
Flood singled to Hoy. Irish singled, stole second and reached third on Bergen's wild throw. Farrell struck out and Kitson was disposed of by Magoon and Peitz. No runs.

Third Inning.
Bergen flied to Flood. Ewing struck out. Hoy raised a fly to Dolan. No runs.
Dolan hit safely to the infield. Keeler's pretty bunt and Stiefel's failure to hold the ball allowed Dolan to reach third. Sheppard was thrown out by Magoon allowing Keeler to reach second and Dolan to score. McCreary popped to Stiefel. Dahlen singled to left and Peitz got a ball going through his legs. Keeler scored and Dahlen reached second. Magoon's fumble placed Peitz on second and crowded Dahlen to third. Irwin doubled to right, scoring Dahlen and advancing Flood to third. Farrell flied to Dahlen. Three runs.

Fourth Inning.
Dobbs singled. Hoy was doubled up with Peitz on the latter's boulder to Flood. Crawford's bunt was his finish. Kitson flied to McCreary. No runs.
Kitson died at first. Dolan met a similar fate. Keeler doubled. A passed ball promoted him to third. Sheppard walked and stole second. McCreary was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Dahlen flied to Stiefel. No runs.

Fifth Inning.
Magoon was flied out by Kitson. Corcoran flied to Sheppard. Stiefel flied to first. No runs.
Flood was retired by Stiefel and Peitz. Irwin made his third safe hit. Farrell and Irwin were doubled up a minute later. Farrell's grounder to Corcoran. No runs.

as long expected from his home. He has long been the stories of his greatness made such an impression on Capt. George Smith that he put him in "Clint" Jackson's place in left field. The "Clint" was benched, and he likes it not a bit.

Clark in Game Again.

The injury to Roy Clark's finger has healed and he felt good enough to go in and work after all the fly balls boosted in the region of centre field. He led the list of batters, and George Smith, because he made two two-base hits yesterday, promoted himself to third place. Lauder was moved up to second while Bean was throwing Dexter out to fifth place. That must have come to pass because he made a safe bunt yesterday. A hit from a Giant is a big thing these days.

For a time this afternoon it looked as though the New Yorkers would not have to run the chance of suffering another defeat. Rain threatened, but by the time practice began the clouds had pretty well cleared away and the sun came out as though to help the Giants find some base hits.

While the practice was going on, Manager Selee was wondering who would lead in against the New Yorkers. He had pitchers in abundance, for not one has yet made application to a hospital. "Pop" Williams looked mighty fine to the ex-Boston manager, and so did his South Paw deliverer, Menefee and St. Vrain. It made no difference, really, for all pitchers were like Chinese puzzle pieces to the Smithsonian.

George Smith practised his position and thought of his pitchers. He had Roy Evans in mind, for it was that fellow's turn to work. He lent a glance now and then to Mathewson as Christy warmed up, and he saw Sparks unloosening his pitching arm muscles; but it was only when Lupton (Cantillon) asked for the Giants' batting list that Capt. George made his final decision.

McDonald Fired.

McDonald, who only joined the Giants on Monday, was found not even good enough to stay here, and this afternoon he was told that his services would no longer be required.

First Inning.

Slagle's third strike got away from Yeager, but George got the ball to Doyle in time. Jones was benched for an error on balls when Evans found it impossible to locate the plate. He moved to second while Bean was throwing Dexter out. Clark was under Condon's fly when it fell. No runs.

Clark batted the first ball pitched to Williams and was an easy out at first. Bean did his club-swinging act. Smith caught the ball good, getting two bases on his drive to right-center. Jack Doyle got a big hand after he had made the double of bases when he was hit by the fielder's throw. Smith scored ahead of him. Lowe took care of Lauder and his roller. Two runs.

Second Inning.

King's roller sped by Bean and was caught for a base. Schaefer's bunt to Bean was King's undoing at second, and Schaefer was victim No. 2 of the hit at first. Evans batted. Lowe's bounce in good shape. No runs.

Yeager's knock to right was for a base. O'Hagan's bunt was out. It retired him but let Yeager go to second. Hartley made his Metropolitan debut as a batter by boosting a foul to Slagle. Three strikes was Evans's dose. No runs.

Third Inning.

Hartley scored his first out by taking Tinker's fly. Williams's bouncer was thrown to Doyle by Evans. Smith stepped to right-center. No runs.

Fourth Inning.

King's rap rolled through Smith and the Cincinnati reached first. Dexter got

ARD PATRICK WINS DERBY RIDDEN BY A YANKEE.

Rising Glass Second, Friar Tuck Third—King, Queen and More than Half a Million Persons See Great Classic Run at Epsom.

The English Derby by Wireless Telegraph.

LONDON, June 4.—J. Gubbins' brown colt Ard Patrick, ridden by J. H. Martin, the American jockey, won the Derby. Col. H. McCalmont's Rising Glass was second. The Duke of Portland's Friar Tuck was third. R. S. Siewier's Sceptre was fourth and R. Forest Tod's Csardas was fifth.

Ard Patrick won by three lengths, and the same distance separated the second and third horses.

Time—2:42 1-4.
The betting was 100 to 14 against Ard Patrick, 40 to 1 against Rising Glass and 100 to 7 against Friar Tuck.

MANY AMERICANS PRESENT TO BET ON YANKEE HORSES.

LONDON, June 4.—The one hundred and twenty-third Derby, which was run at Epsom Downs to-day, was the most brilliant in the long and eventful history of this, the great classic of the turf.

There has always been a mighty host numbering close to half a million humans surrounding the historic equine battle-field when the sons and daughters of famous sires raced gallantly to the finish of the mile and a half course, but this year the assemblage broke all records.

It is the middle of the London season and the Boer war is just over, so society went to Epsom in its gayest and bravest attire, and the spectacle was a wonderful one.

Started at Daybreak.
Enormous crowds led London, the exodus beginning at daybreak, both by road and rail. Vehicles of every description, from the dignified stage coach, totting automobile and hansom cab to the plebeian oster's donkey cart, all more or less belated, moved in endless procession along all the roads converging on the race course.

Owner is an Irishman.
Mr. Gubbins, the owner of Ard Patrick, is an Irishman who owns a big stud of horses at Limerick. He also owned Galtee More, which won the Derby in 1897. Mr. Gubbins subsequently sold Galtee More to the Russian Government for £21,000 ($106,000).

American money was strongly in evidence. Fully £500,000 was wagered on the result of the great race in which American horses were entered and American jockeys had the favorite mounts.

King Bets on Sceptre.
The owner of Pekin backed his horse to win $100,000. King Edward VII. laid his royal ducats on Sceptre. R. S. Siewier's Sceptre, whose sire won the Derby for the King when he was Prince of Wales.

The eyes of every turfman in the world were turned toward Epsom to-day. The English Derby or "Blue Riband" possessed an interest and importance that is peculiarly its own. To win it is considered the greatest honor that can fall to a horseman.

American jockeys have a keen interest in the race. In 1881 an American horse, grand old Iroquois, bred and owned and raced by the late Pierre Lorillard, won the Derby. Iroquois was the only foreign bred, foreign owned horse to do this. Last year an English horse, Woodpecker, running in the colors of Mr. W. C. Whitney, took the "blue riband."

The result upset all calculations. It was considered to be a "one horse race," but Sceptre (the winner of the

"SHEETS" MARTIN

2,000 and 1,000 guineas stakes), never flattered her supporters.

The Americans' greatest satisfaction was that an American jockey, at any rate, had won. Up to the last many persons hoped that Mr. Whitney's favorite would win.

Martin, the American jockey, afterwards said:

"I never rode a gamer horse. He seems to like American riders and takes every hint from rein or foot. The trainer, Mr. Laing, cautioned me that there was but one good run in the colt, and to hold him. But I found him so keen that when I got well off at the start I determined to keep the place and make the pace."

MAHER WINS EPSOM PLATE.

LONDON, June 4.—The Epsom Town Plate, of 20 sovereigns, was won by W. Day's Russet Brown, with Danny Maher up. S. B. Joel's Infishie, with "Sheets" Martin up, finished second. Twenty horses ran. The betting against the winner was 100 to 8.

WHITNEY ON THE RES LT OF THE DERBY.

"I see Ard Patrick won the Derby," said W. C. Whitney to-day. "Well, he is a good horse, but I wish Nasturtium had been well enough to race. You would have seen a different result."

HURST TO FIGHT JONES.

A Philadelphia club has made a bid for a match between "Griff" Jones and Joe Hurst; the match to be decided the middle of this month. Jones is the younger boxer who gave Hughie McGovern two hard fights.

KEENE STRAIGHTENS OUT THE ENGLISH POLO MESS.

As a Result of Correspondence Shrewsbury Withdraws Action Against Waterbury.

Shrewsbury Withdraws.

LONDON, June 4.—The Waterbury-Shrewsbury incident, arising from the use of spurs by Lawrence Waterbury while playing polo at Hurlingham Saturday against which Lord Shrewsbury protested, has been settled out of court by an exchange of letters from Foxhall Keene, in his capacity as captain of the American team, and Lord Shrewsbury. The correspondence follows:

"No. 6 Aldford street, Park Lane, June 4.

"My Dear Shrewsbury: I deeply regret to hear that there is some unpleasantness between yourself and one of my team regarding an incident of the game on Saturday, at Hurlingham, with reference to which, I understand, you were acting independently, in the interest of horseflesh. I am sure we are all sorry there should have been any cause, in your opinion, to have called for an expression of your feeling.

"Shrewsbury Withdraws."
"No. 12 George street, Hanover Square, June 4.

"My Dear Keene: I was very glad to receive your letter, which I am only too happy to accept in the good spirit in which it is written, and which will close the matter, so far as I am concerned. I am sure that whatever happened was due, no doubt, to the excitement of the international contest, and will not occur again. This being so, I hope your team and yourself will give me the pleasure of driving down with me on my coach and having lunch with me next Saturday at Hurlingham.

"SHREWSBURY AND TALBOT."

New English Team.

LONDON, June 4.—The officials of the Hurlingham Polo Club have selected a new team to compete against the American team in the next game for the cup, which will be played next Saturday. The members of the club, as well as the club officials, were much displeased with the showing made by their team, and with a view to preventing the Yankees from winning any more games the selection of a new team was advised.

The only member of the first team retained is Mr. Cecil Talbot, whose excellent playing last Saturday justifies his retention on the team. The new team was given a trial yesterday against a very strong side and managed to defeat them by eight goals to one.

COLUMBIA STRONG MAN A WONDER.

Nelson W. Willard Raises Nearly a Ton with His Legs and Shatters All University Records.

Columbia's latest strong man, Nelson W. Willard, has succeeded in smashing the strength test record of the university. He shattered the previous record by more than 200 pounds. He registered the enormous total of 2,022 pounds, which is not only far and away better than Harold Weekes's efforts, but is also the third best ever made in the intercollegiate competition since Dr. Sargent's system of measurements was devised five years ago.

Willard's individual tests were as follows:

Strength of back, 390 pounds; strength of legs, 1,000 pounds; strength of grip, right hand, 71; strength of grip, left hand, 73 pounds; number of push-ups (dips), 60; number of pull-ups (chin), 42; aggregate points for push-ups and pull-ups, 653; strength of lungs, 40 pounds.

The most remarkable part of the test was Willard's strength of back in lifting 800 pounds, and strength of legs in raising 1,800 pounds.

Willard is only five feet seven inches high and twenty-six years old. He comes from Galesburg, Ill.

VARDON LEADS ENGLISH GOLFERS

Frenchman's Play Is Sensation of First Round in Open Golf Championship—New Record Is Made.

LONDON, June 4.—The contests for the open golf championship commenced at Hoylake, near Liverpool, to-day. The 112 entries (the largest on record) included all the professional "cracks," but some of the well-known amateurs were absent. The championship will be decided by strokes over 72 holes. The first two rounds, 36 holes, are played to-day.

Braid, Taylor and Vardon are the favorites. At the end of the first round Harry Vardon led the field, finishing in 72, two strokes better than Champion Braid's record over this green. Braid's score to-day was 78. Hilton and Maxwell made 29.

One of the sensations of the day was the play of a Frenchman, Armand Mues, of Biarritz, who scored 77. His driving was especially fine. Vardon made a heart-breaking start. His second shot, the first hole, went out of bounds, and his next shot also went out of bounds, not a yard off the other ball. He took six shots to hole out, but not daunted by the mishaps, Vardon played from the second hole to the finish of the first round.
